Are Their Hearts Too Big?

And now, concerning our repersentatives at Sacramento, the question arises—are their hearts too big for their heads?

They sincerely want to do something for the debt-ridden. That is beyond question. But it looks as though some of them are getting so wound up in recondite matters of higher finance that they really don't know where they are likely to end up.

There are now pending, for example, a number of bills tampering with a situation that was cleared up at the last session. It used to be that a man who accepted your land, say, as sceurity for a loan, could sell it, if you failed to keep up payments, for far below its true value. Then he could get a judgment against you for the difference between what it brought and the amount of money he loaned you originally. Which meant that, in the end, you were paying back more than you borrowed.

That was a bad situation, certainly. But a law passed last session remedied it by providing that in no

Banker and Economist Urges Townsend Pensions

An audience that filled the art room of Sunset school listened attentively Thursday night while C. A. Drinkhard of Wenatchee, Wash., explained and reduced to simplicity the operation of the present financial system of this country wherein the private control of cash and credit circulation has resulted in the concentrating of 90 per cent of all cash and credit under the control of 5 per cent of the population and has reduced the average person to a state of poverty.

Mr. Drinkard came to Carmel expressly to speak at the opening meeting of the city's recently organized Townsend Old Age Revolving Pensions club, but assuming that every person in his audience was familiar with the provisions of the McGroarty bill now awaiting action by congress, the speaker devoted his time to an elucidation of the methods by which the nation's cash and credit circulation is controlled.

"Americans have religious and political liberty, but they are slaves to their economic system," he explained. "A few private bankers now control moneys and credits. They can contract or expand them at will. When the circulation of cash and credit is contracted those having their property in the form of cash or well secured loans are benefited. It increases the purchasing power of their money. It requires more products to pay the interest on the loan. It requires more products or labor to secure the dollar. On the other hand all who have something to sell, be it products, labor, or professional services, are damaged by the contraction."

The speaker declared that the passage of the Townsend measure would at once break the stranglehold of the money barons of the nation. Throwing a billion and a half dollars into the channels of trade every month would serve to revive every conceivable kind of industry, put the millions at present unemployed and on relief back into constructive private production, at good wages and salaries, and restore national prosperity without inflation through the rapid and continuous circulation of existing money in trade channels, sufficient in volume to immediately restore maximum buying power and normal consumption of every form of manuafctured goods, food products and professional services.

The meeting was taken in charge by Robert Hard, president of the Pacific Grove Townsend Club. F. T. Robbins introduced the speaker. Following the address Dr. A. R. Lawn, of Salinas, director of Townsend activities in Monterey county, took charge and completed a temporary organization of a Carmel Townsend club, which starts out with 100 members. A. E. Pfremmer was chosen temporary president, and Mrs. Ivy C. Rogers, vice-president.

The next meeting of the club will be tomorrow (Wednesday) night at the same place, starting at 8:00 o'clock, and a good attendance is anticipated. Every person interested will be welcome. There will be no admission charge.

The Birds In Your Garden

The Garden Section of the Woman's club met on Thursday, April 18th, at 10 a. m., at the home of Miss Anne Grant, Hatton Fields. The speaker for the morning was Mr. Laidlaw Williams, who gave a delightful talk on "Birds in Your Garden." There can be no garden without birds, said Mr. Williams They are a useful part in the scheme of gardens. Birds eat insects and trees provide nests, and thus it makes a delightful circle. This balance in nature is so delicate that the slightest deviation will cause calamity. For example, woodpeckers live in dead trees, which are a menace; but woodpeckers eat the insects that live in the dead trees. All birds are not a benefit in a garden. Some are destructive, such as sparrows. Linnets are destructive at certain times and in certain places. Jays destroy all young birds in the nest. Hawks and owls are really a great benefit, because of their rodent destroying activities. Barn owls kill quantities and quantities of gophers. The introduction of foreign birds into this country has not proved a success, said Mr. Williams. Imported birds are often crowded out and die in a short time, or even worse, they are so aggressive in nature that they in turn drive all others away. Our American meadow lark and hermit thrush have just as sweet a song as the English skylark, so why import the latter. Mr. Williams divided birds into four divisions, namely: permanent residents, winter visitants, summer visitants, and transients, fully illustrating the four classes with lists of birds, their appearance and character. Mr. Williams' advice for bringing birds into one's garden are the following: Save a little of the natural shrubbery; plant Pampas grass and berry-bearing bushes; put up nesting boxes; and have bird baths shallow, rough on the bottom, out in the open, and high enough from the fround to be safe from cats.

Section meetings for the week beginning April 29 will be as follows: The Book Section will hold its last meeting for the season on Wednesday, May 1, at 10 a. m. at the Scout House. There will be no review, the usual auction of the books in circulation this year taking place.

The Garden Section will hold its last meeting on Thursday, May 2, at 10 a. m., at the residence of Mrs. Briggs, Carmelo, between Eleventh and Twelfth. Mr. Briggs will give a talk on his cactus garden.

The last general monthly meeting of the Woman's club for the season will be held on Monday, May 6th, at 2:30 p. m. at the Girl Scout House. At this time there will be the usual election of officers for the coming year, and reports will be read by the chairmen of sections and standing committees on the work done during this past season. Following this there will be a social hour and tea served.

Beginning May 1, the Carmel Library will open at 11 o'clock instead of at one, thus making the hours 11 to 6, and 7 to 9 daily except Sunday.

Sunset School's May Festival This Week

The annual May Festival and Carnival of Sunset school is to be held on the school grounds on Friday, May 3. The Carmel Parent-Teacher association, which sponsors the gala event, and Principal Bardarson and his corps of teachers, who are giving hearty cooperation, are setting the stage to provide a big time for the grownups as well as the children.

The profits to be derived from the undertaking are to be divided equally between the P.-T. A. and the school faculty to be used in financing needed school projects not taken care of by the school budget. There will be no admission charge, but you had better carry your purse along and have some small change in it, for numerous tempting opportunities to spend will be provided. They will include refreshment and candy booths, fortune tellers, fish ponds, side shows of various kinds, book stalls, etc.

Contributions are solicited to include books for children and adults, magazines, and food of various kinds. Any person who wishes to help with some sort of contribution should call up Mrs. Doris Watson, 362, or Mrs. Kent Clark, 55-J.

The festival is scheduled to begin at 2:00 and end at 5:30 p. m. Of course everybody is invited to enjoy the festivities. The carnival will be opened with a parade in which all the school children in costume will participate. This will be followed by Maypole dancing on the lower field.

WHIST BENEFIT FOR OLD MISSION

A whist party for the benefit of the Old Carmel Mission will be given tonight in Pine Inn by the Holy Name Society. The affair gives promise of being the biggest social event of the season, since not only is Carmel preparing to turn out almost 100 per cent, but numerous friends are coming from other points on the peninsula. The prizes that have been collected for the successful players include $10 for the first, $5.00 for the second, a turkey for third and a luscious cut of beer roast for the fourth. These and many other prizes are on display today at Staniford's drug store. The ladies in charge include: Mrs. Adam Kramer, Mrs. Mary Riordan, Mrs. M. Miller, Mrs. Paul Joseph. Tickets are on sale at Stella's Dry Goods Store and Staniford's.

CARMEL RED CROSS BUSY IN NEW HOME

Carmel chapter of the American Red Cross is caring for more varieties of cases than the usual chapter of the organization because it is the only welfare group in town, according to Mrs. Karl G. Rendtorff, chairman.

This includes housing, clothing, feeding and medical attention for the needy in general. Women of the Community and All Saints churches meet once a month to do Red Cross sewing, and thus increase the supplies on hand for Miss Leslie King, who is in charge at new chapter headquarters in the old postoffice building.

Junior Red Cross activity is being stimulated, and first aid classes will shortly be announced for prospective members.

RAISING FUND TO RESTORE MISSION

Plans are laid for a "Carmel Mission Restoration party," in Del Monte's Bali room. Wednesday, May 29, has been chosen as the date for the event, which will be featured by a "Carmel Follies and Cabaret" dance, under direction of Byington Ford.

Use of the Bali room, with all profits to be turned over to the restoration fund, was offered by S. F. B. Morse. It is hoped to raise between $3000 and $4000. Tickets will shortly go on sale at $2.50.

Cooperation of the Presidio of Monterey has been assured, and a post affair scheduled on the date chosen has been postponed.

case could a borrower be compelled to pay back more than the original loan and legitimate costs.

A good many legislators, apparently, are not aware of this. For they have introduced several "deficiency judgment bills" which will upset the apple-cart so recently righted. Perhaps somebody ought to warn them.

Their hearts, it would seem, are too big for their heads.

The Townsend Weekly, official publication of the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pensions, Ltd., is sharing the same inhibition about which Carmel's newest venture in the newspaper field complains—it has been barred from the news stands. Failing to get his weekly consignment a local dealer wrote the news agency and in reply was advised that the publication was no longer handled by the agency. That means of course, that the big interests, realizing that the Townsend plan means the end of their strangle-hold on the country, have "cracked down" on the agencies. But such stupid measures to prevent spread of Townsendism are sure to work just the other way. The demand for the Townsend Weekly will be stronger that ever, and the news stands will have the publication on sale. The Townsend clubs, thousands of them and in every state of the union, will attend to that. The Carmel club will order the Townsend Weekly in any quantity for any dealer who wishes to place his order.

California should soon begin to experience a return to old-time prosperity. Out of the $4,800,000,000 the federal government will spend during the coming year for work relief, the Central Valley project will probably get about $68,000,000, with as much of the remaining $102,000,000 as possible in the form of a loan. The federal army and navy program includes the expenditure of close to $100,000,000 in the Golden State. Then there is promised an enormous tourist business this season. What with the International Exposition in San Diego plus the ever-present attractions this state holds for the visitor, some millions of people are expected to drop in on us and leave a few dollars.

PATTERSON URGES RECOVERY METHODS

A serious condition exists in California. Six months ago we had 1,250,000 persons on the relief rolls. Today there are over 1,500,000, and the registrations are growing larger.

Fifty cents a day is about the least that we can expect these persons to exist on, which means that such consideration will cost $750,000 a day, and, multiplying that by 365, $273,750,000 yearly. Let us say this is inflated, as it is difficult to get exact figures, so let us halve this sum, which would leave $136,875,000. Have we provided for such a situation?

I am opposed to an outright dole because of its ruinous effect upon our people. Some self-help plans may be feasible, but this is only temporary. We must get these men and women back into paying jobs in industry and agriculture, and we cannot do this by ruinous taxation. Neither can we succeed permanently by public works programs, as all this is of a temporary nature.

Permanent remedies are needed. Self-help unemployment insurance, old age pensions plans of an adequate nature, and stabilized long-range economic plans must be set up so that business, agriculture and labor will know where they are going and can adjust their undertakings to meet the requirements of their various enterprises.

Neither the Federal nor State government has had the courage, ability and statesmanship to plan a definite policy to which the whole nation can subscribe, forgetting politics, in order to bring about recovery.

If we give our people a measure of recovery by which they can be reinstated in gainful employment, much discontent will disappear. But until these people are made economically secure, we cannot shirk our responsibilities as a government or as true patriotic citizens.

This state is confronted with a tax program which it must face, and which it may adopt. I will submit this to the voters in my district in my next statement.

Assemblyman, Thirty-fifth District

"By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil." These words from Proverbs comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, May 5, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Everlasting Punishment." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "Lord, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph? . . . Who will rise up for me against the evildoers? or who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity? . . . But the Lord is my defence; and my God is the rock of my refuge" (Psalms 94:3, 16, 22).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will also be included: "Science removes the penalty only by first removing the sin which incurs the penalty. This is my sense of divine pardon, which I understand to mean God's method of destroying sin. If the saying is true, 'While there's life there's hope,' its opposite is also true, While there's sin there's doom" (p. 40).

SPECIAL SHOWING OF THE INTERNATIONALLY FAMOUS FRENCH TALKING PICTURE

"REDHEAD"

With English Subtitles

CARMEL THEATRE

"The greatest of foreign films."—N. Y. Herald-Tribune

Admission 50 cents Tickets at the door

French Picture "Redhead" Friday Matinee Feature

Once again Carmel is to the fore with a showing this Friday of the superlative French motion picture, "Redhead," a film which has achieved international success. Without a single screen "celebrity" to augment its box office drawing power, this picture has won extraordinary acclaim in every country of the world. The New York Herald-Tribune rates it as "the greatest of foreign films," an opinion shared by the press critics of every large city where the film has been shown.

"Redhead," with English subtitles, will be shown at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, and again immediately after the regular evening program of Carmel Theatre. The "midnight show," so popular in the cities, may become a regular Friday feature here if the public rises to this opportunity to get on the same schedule with the famous Filmarte theatre in Hollywood and the International Theatre in San Francisco. Spanish, French, German and other foreign-language film successes, all with English subtitles to make them easily understandable by all, will be offered about twice a month, the management stating that the greatest pains will be taken to avoid films having political or other controversial themes.

"Redhead" is marked by splendid direction, superlative acting and music, beautiful photography, and a sincere and thrilling story. It is a story of boyhood, gently humorous and infinitely pathetic, so delicately portrayed as to make one of the most moving performances ever brought to the screen.

Popular prices will prevail at these showings, tickets for both matinee and night after-show performances being available at the door.

CARMEL SERA JOBS ADVANCE RAPIDLY

Carmel SERA work at the Carmel waterfront in connection with erosion control and landscaping is ahead of schedule, according to Joseph Burge, street commissioner. So far the workers have concentrated on a cobblestone gutter and curb which winds unobtrusively along the top of the cliffs on Scenic drive near the city limit line.

Despite the handicap of insufficient manpower, the project is showing good progress. As many as 12 men have been on the job at one time, although the average is nearer eight, and several are assigned to the San Jose creek quarry to get our material.

Other SERA activity in Carmel includes sanitary cleanup in the gulch at Fifth and Santa Rita as a mosquito prevention measure.
